

Hallow Words: Scary Story and Poem Night

Presented by Blanche Abrams

Friday, October 28, 2016 at MAE • 5:30-8:30 pm • $20

ELF Event (Every Last Friday) at Manzanita Arts Emporium

Columbia's Blanche Abrams will capture the spirit of the holiday with her recitation of none other than one of the most horrific poems courtesy of the master of literary terror, Mr. Edgar Allan Poe. In full costume, Blanche will interpret with dark humor "The Raven," exquisitely scary and guaranteed to raise more than a few spine tingles. All ages are welcome to share favorite frightful stories or poems at an open mic session to celebrate a wholesome All-Hallows Eve, complete with "finger" foods, "gutsy" fare and dark libations. Suggested donations of $20 for costs will be gratefully accepted.
